There came for continued discussion from the December 14, 2004 meeting the intent of a Square Preservation District. Chairman Lewis stated he felt last months meeting went well. The Commission's goal is to continue working toward outlining a proposed district. At which time a proposed district is designed, the property owners will be notified via certified mail and the Commission will hold a public hearing for citizen input. If after the public hearing, the Commission feels there is general support from the property owners to establish a Square Preservation District, the Commission will move forward and present for designation to the Board of Aldermen. After some discussion as to where the boundaries should lie, it was proposed that a blank map of the Downtown Business area be sent out in the February Commission packet and each Commissioner would outline what they felt the outlining boundaries should be, which would be presented and discussed at next months meeting.

There being no further business to come before the Commission, the meeting was adjourned at 6:10 p.m.
